WED WEATHER BRINGS TRADE
Some Unique and Beautiful as Well as Utilitarian Gifts Are to Be Found in Local Shops—Busy Scenes on Streets.

If the Christmas weather man will be kind for ten more days, no one will mind the extra nip in the air.
The weather man, however, is not a shopping tour through drizzle and fog. With the best of intentions to bring us only a few more days of the Christmas weather, who are the men, of course, waited until last night to make their forecast.
Heads of the big stores, who have philosophically decided that Christmas will not be quite up to standard this year, were so rushed Saturday that the following items appeared in columns of the Times-Dispatch yesterday morning:

REQUIRE the services of a number of bright, active salesladies for various departments. Previous experience desired, but not essential. Apply today morning.

A little farther down the column another advertiser announced:

WANTED, ten experienced salesladies in women's and boys' department.
Apply not earlier than 10:30 Monday morning.

So yesterday morning, when there was a general turning out on Broad street of Christmas shoppers, everybody was promptly waited on by the increased staffs.

Everything is most attractively set forth in the shops, too. If the buyer is a member of the Spurgeons Society for the Prevention of Useless Giving, certainly she is not alone. For she realizes that all along the line are people who look just as lovely as the most absolutely foolish of pretty things.

For the women who live in the homes where modern heating apparatus is yet to be installed, those fascinating sweaters, coats would be just the very thing, and who shall say they are not as beautiful as the less utilitarian garments? The stores are all beautifully decorated, and the crowds give such a "Christmas" feeling even to those who were not buying heavily.
The weekly rush is a very busy one in the shopping trip. No one, regardless of the number of gifts she is going to bestow, need purchase anything useless, for every counter is filled with necessities so dainty that every member of the household can buy to their heart's content and not break a single rule.

For the man or woman who works all day in a grimy office, a beautiful, handmade lamp shade looks like a very useful gift. They are so tired of plain brown shades, and many of the shops are showing the very most artistic things that will harmonize with the wall paper, or the easy reading chair.
In your friend's home.
Nothing is lovelier than a glimpse of the florists' windows on frosty evenings. Just a hint of summer always makes Christmas time all the more beautiful. So instead of the conventional Christmas wreaths, some thoughtful givers are buying a potted geranium, or a fern that cannot be resisted.
So, as we drop a bundle of small parcels on the hall rack that has been carried home instead of having them sent, just as we rush to our conscienceless for so long to our exclamation: "I don't Christmas shopping lovely when it doesn't rain!"

HOTEL MEN OF SOUTH ASSEMBLE HERE TO-DAY

THERMOMETER FALLS BELOW FREEZING POINT

Predicted Cold Wave Arrives on Schedule Time—Further Drop Expected.

The thermometer fell two degrees below freezing point last night, and the forecast made by the United States Weather Bureau was made true. Winter, after many vagaries in the weather, has at last fallen upon the Southern land, and all signs point to a Christmas that will not be green, meaning also that the population in the cemetery will not be so large.

The highest temperature reached yesterday was 43 degrees, which was recorded on the government thermometer after 3 o'clock. The minimum was 26 degrees, and the mean temperature was 36 degrees, five degrees below normal. In other cities in the country which come under official observation the mercury fell below zero, and there was ice and skating. There has been no local rainfall during the last twenty-four hours, and there is still a marked deficiency in this respect.

Dr. Kent Visits Brother.

Dr. Charles Kent, of the University of Virginia, is on a visit to his brother, Dr. M. Kent, Jr., at his home in Glister Park. He has just returned from a trip to Wyoming, and is now in good health, and will take up his work at the university at the beginning of the year.

Shop-Lifting Case Continued.

The case of Mrs. M. E. Quinn, charged with shop-lifting, was continued in Police Court yesterday, December 29.
She was bailed for her appearance at that time.
